

GMO Statement

All walnuts processed by our Company have not been genetically modified in any way. Our growers purchase their trees from local nurseries that follow U.C. Davis' standard breeding practices. All products from Avanti are in their natural origin and are not derived from genetically modified organisms. All Avanti walnuts are grown, processed, and packed in the state of California. Avanti walnuts are not made with BE ingredients whatsoever and do not contain ingredients that are known to have a BE component.